

Lok Sabha MUN

Indian Parliamentary Model UN

Event Type:

Individual or Double Delegation (Assigned MP Portfolio)

Dates & Venue:

30–31 October 2026 | Conference Hall

Description:

The Lok Sabha (House of the People) simulation models the Parliament of India under adapted parliamentary procedure. Delegates represent sitting Members of Parliament (MPs), debating constructively and representing their assigned party and constituency perspectives.

Language of the House: English and Hindi are permitted. Delegates may speak in either language without penalty. First-person references ("I") are permitted as delegates speak directly as their represented MP.

Agenda:

The Public Examinations (Prevention of Unfair Means) Legislation — Addressing the national and state crisis surrounding institutional paper leaks, cheating networks, and examination integrity across national tests (such as NEET, UGC-NET, and State PSCs).

Code of Conduct & Decorum:

- Addressing the House: Address the Chair as "Hon'ble Speaker" and fellow members as "Hon'ble Member" or "Hon'ble Minister". All remarks must be addressed to the Chair.
- Speaking Stance: Stand while speaking and remain seated while others speak.
- Unparliamentary Language: Personal attacks, abusive, communal, casteist, or sexist remarks are strictly prohibited and will be expunged with potential penalties.
- Dress Code: Formal Indian or Western attire is mandatory (Kurta, Saree, Bandhgala encouraged). Wearing political party symbols or campaign items is not permitted.

Order of Business & Rules of Procedure:

- Order of Business: Roll Call & Quorum check → Agenda and GSL → Open debate → Calling Attention Motions and Special Mentions → Legislative Business (Bills & Resolutions) → Adjournment of the House.
- Roll Call & Quorum: Delegates respond with "Present" or "Present and Voting". Delegates who respond "Present and Voting" cannot abstain on substantive votes. The Speaker may adjourn the House if quorum is lost.
- Speakers' List (GSL): Opened by the Chair at the beginning of debate; delegates join by raising placards. Standard speaking time is 60 seconds. Exceeding time will be cautioned or penalized. Unused time cannot be yielded unless allowed by the Chair.
- Open Debate: The Chair recognizes a delegate from the list, who may question any other delegate within the allotted time.
- Voting: Members vote by raising placards or moving to "Aye" / "No" lobbies. Procedural motions require a simple majority.

Points & Parliamentary Motions:

- Point of Order: Raised when a rule of procedure is violated. May interrupt a speaker; the Chair's ruling is final.
- Point of Information: Question directed to a speaker through the Chair (speaker must accept; Chair may limit number).
- Point of Personal Privilege: Raised for personal audibility or physical comfort. May interrupt only for genuine urgency.
- Point of Parliamentary Inquiry: Clarification on procedure requested from the Chair (cannot interrupt a speaker).
- Procedural Motions: Adjournment Motion (requires written notice & support of 10 members), Motion to Extend/Close Debate (simple majority), and Motion for Suspension/Adjournment of the House (Chair's decision).

Chits, Notes & Bloc Responsibilities:

- Chits & Communication: All written communication inside the House must be conducted through formal chits delivered strictly by Marshals and volunteers. Notes with inappropriate, personal, or off-topic content will be confiscated by the Chair and may lead to penalties. Informal lobbying and discussions are restricted to designated breaks or suspensions.
- Treasury Benches (Government): Sponsoring Ministers introduce and defend Government policy, present legislative bills, and answer questions from the floor with ministerial accountability.

- Opposition & Independents: The Leader of Opposition (LOP) coordinates opposition strategy to scrutinise Government legislation and propose constructive policy alternatives. Independent members align on an issue-by-issue basis representing their respective constituencies.

Committee Leadership Roles:

- Speaker (Chair): Presides over proceedings, maintains parliamentary order, recognizes speakers, and has final authority on procedure.
- Deputy Speaker (Co-Chair): Assists the Speaker, manages the Speakers' List, and presides in the Speaker's absence.
- Secretary-General (Rapporteur): Records proceedings, maintains scores, and handles delegate notes and documents.

Legislative Procedure (Bills & Documents):

- Stages of a Bill:
 1. Introduction / First Reading: Sponsoring Minister introduces the Bill and objectives (no debate at this stage).
 2. Second Reading: General principles debate, followed by clause-by-clause consideration and written amendments.
 3. Third Reading: Final debate on the Bill as amended, followed by voting for passage.
- Amendments: Must be submitted in writing stating the clause and exact change with a proposer and seconder before main clause voting. The Chair may reject irrelevant or contradictory amendments.
- Documents: Typed and formatted documents must be approved by the Secretariat. Max 1 Bill/Resolution per delegate (Treasury & Opposition table max 2 each). Plagiarism or pre-written unapproved bills are strictly prohibited.

Evaluation & Scoring Criteria:

- Content & Research: 20 Marks (Depth of knowledge, factual accuracy, portfolio/agenda relevance)
